ABOUT & OBJECTIVES

I am a software engineer with 2+ years of experience in both backend and frontend software design using Python, NodeJS, Javascript, CSS, HTML, and other related technologies. As a frontend and backend software engineer, I know the workings of the web and can, with this knowledge, create intuitive UIs backed with remarkable user experiences. I'm also able to develop backend servers for both web, mobile, and desktop applications that all communicate with each other through powerful APIs built on the RESTful API development architecture.
